

Tenure track position--Creative Writing

The Department of English Language and Literature at Saint Mary's University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the field of Creative Writing. The successful applicant will be expected to contribute to one or more of the areas of poetry, fiction, drama, creative non-fiction, and spoken word; and to expand and develop our Creative Writing program. The successful applicant will hold a PhD, or an MA/MFA, and have demonstrated professional standing through a body of published creative work. The department is particularly interested in applicants from under-represented groups, as defined below. The department sees creative writing as a complementary part of the study of literature. The standard teaching load in the Department is 3-2. The appointment will begin on 1 July 2019.

The Faculty of Arts is particularly interested in scholars with creative approaches to undergraduate education whose teaching in the Department can also contribute to its interdisciplinary programs. Applicants are encouraged to consult faculty web pages to determine how, as potential hires, they might enrich our intellectual community.

Although candidates of all nationalities are encouraged to apply, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Saint Mary's University is committed to principles of employment equity. Rank and salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications as outlined in the Saint Mary's University Collective Agreement.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a sample of recent creative writing, graduate school transcripts, and names and contact information of three referees to: Dr. Goran Stanivukovic, Chairperson, Department of English Language and Literature, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, 923 Robie Street, Nova Scotia B3H 3C3, Canada. Electronic applications will not be considered. For more information about this position, contact Dr. Goran Stanivukovic, Chair, (goran.stanivukovic@smu.ca) or Dr. Alexander MacLeod (alexander.macleod@smu.ca).

The deadline for applications is 1 October 2018.
